

SUMMARY

The maps are very important to represent the geographical features on some form of two dimensional surfaces. The main task of Geographers is map making without map they cannot explain the spatial phenomenon.

“One good map explain thousand words”