

Objectives

After studying this unit, you will be able to,

1. Explain the use of inventory control models to determine how much to order or produce and when to order or produce
2. Explain inventory models that allow quantity discounts